Holy Synod commemorates 75th Anniversary of WWII internment of Aleut peoples

RIVES JUNCTION, MI – During their mid-May 2017 retreat at Holy Dormition Monastery here, the Holy Synod of Bishops adopted a resolution commemorating the 75th Anniversary of the World War II internment of the Aleut peoples of the Aleutian and Pribilof Islands.

“Before the Japanese invasion of Attu and Kiska, Alaska in 1942, nearly 900 Aleuts living in the Aleutian and Pribilof Islands had been forced to resettle to camps in southeast Alaska,” explained His Grace, Bishop David of Sitka and Alaska. “It was estimated that over ten percent of the evacuees perished during this little-known era of World War II history.”
